

As you know Auto Skills Australia is working on reviewing the Automotive Training Package according to the new standards and we are working to have the AUR Training Package endorsed by the National Skills Standards Council (NSSC) by the end of the year. The timelines involved in endorsing a Training Package require feedback on the project to be finalised well before the endorsement date, so we are asking for feedback on qualifications and units of competency that we are placing on our website. Feedback for this project closes on the 11th of April, 2014, and we urge all stakeholders to add their thoughts on the structure of the Training Package. We are adding work to the website as it is completed, but we have the following qualifications and their units available for feedback:
